Hate to be that guy, but this is probably going to be a very hot topic question at a big Tim meeting tomorrow at 2pm.

Any chance we can get a sense of an answer by then?

cc-ing Matt S just because he's in the same meeting and has some context on importance. Sorry for being vague on the meeting overall.

Thanks, this is high priority for a Tim meeting.

Any chance in the short-term we can just get a quick take for the most recent client update (non-HF), about % of mobile MAU that was updated to latest update version after 9 days?

Sounds good. Darren is off to paternity but @Aaron Medvick 's team is looking into.

Aakash, to put an extra fine point to the question, in addition to the general question: We will launch 13.40 on Tue Aug 4th. By the time we hotfix on early morning Thu Aug 13th, what % of active mobile players do we think will have updated to that build? By platform (iOS vs Google Play vs Other Android). Do we see any meaningful discrepancies by region/country?

Thanks - Aakash, let me know if you need more info or context. Overall we're trying to figure out what percent of active players update to the new client N days after release.

Hey team,
Circling back on this. @Christopher Wright have you had a chance to investigate?

Thanks,

Adding the rest of [REDACTED] for viz, but @Christopher Wright specifically is probably the most likely to know where to track these down.

Jon, Darren,
We're looking to get a better understanding of how quickly new players migrate onto a typical mobile update.

Example: % of MAU with latest update N days after release

Would it be possible to get this info before EOW?

Thank you,

-Alec
